To whom it may concern,

It is with humble regret that I inform you I am resigning my position of English teacher at Bigfork Middle School.

My time in this district and at this school have been nothing short of spectacular, and I need to say it is nothing here that is driving me away. The warmth and compassion this school exudes is almost overwhelming and is something I am certain, despite my limited experience, is a singular happening. The unconditional support of students and new staff has made this a fantastic place to work.

However, I have felt a lacking from my time here and it comes from beyond the warm light of Bigfork schools; family. Unlike so many of my generation, my heart lies not in travel and exploration, but in home and hearth. I wither without my family, both born to and adopted, and thus I have accepted a position at the new Gallatin High School in Bozeman so i may return to them.

I cannot express how grateful I am for the opportunity, support, and kindness I have been given here. Certainties are hard for me, but I can say that beyond a shadow of doubt my teaching and I will always be informed by my profound first year in Bigfork by the Bay.

Yours in sincerity,

Nate Johnson
